SATURDAY, July 39 The seeming indifferent attitude of the public toward the market for securities and the comparatively low prices for stable cereals, par-ticularly wheat, have been the principal topics of discussion in and about the Stock Exchange this week. The consideration of these electrostances has induced a good deal of professional selling for both accounts. The sellers have also advanced the view in support of their position that the market has not responded us it should to the progress of the American forces in the West Indies and the overtures of Spain for peace. The statistics of the market for the week do not entirely support the position taken by a large part of the speculative contingent. Before presenting those statistics it is worth noting that the time is midsummer, when practically every one who can afford to do so pay- as little attention as possible to legitimate business, and, as a rule, absolutely ignores a sculative opportunities Moreover, the week has been an unusually trying one, owing to enervating meteorological conditions. In spite of these deterrent influences the dealings in stocks have been nearly twice as large as last week, and a larger number of Insues have been dealt in. The net result of the trading is a higher level of prices for nearly the entire list, and a number of stocks are materially higher than they were a week ago. It is claimed in some quarters that the most pronounced advances have been brought about by manipulation. The fact remains that the upward movement in those stocks has been easily accomplished and appears not to have encountered any serious ob-

The improvement in the bend market has not been as pronounced as that in stocks; still the dealings in bonds have been somewhat larger than during the previous week. They have been a little better distributed and prices as a rule are higher. The showing of the market for securities as a whole is certainly not a discouraging one in view of the cir-cumstances noted above. It is plain from what has taken place that the people who spend their lensiness day in and about the Stock Exprices, though they may make the majority of transactions. A quiet, almost imperceptible, absorption of securities is taking place, and the prevailing rates for money, together with the present condition and the prospects of gen-eral business, furnish reasons for this steady transfer of securities from speculators to investors. One of the leading trade reviews notes that although new engagements are ordinarily deferred at this season of the year, more builness has been done this month than in any previous July of which there are records. The payments through clearing houses have been 5.8 % cent. larger than in 1802, the year of greatest presperity heretofore. They are 6% W cent larger than last year. These figures are the more significant when it is remembered that there has been a heavy decline in prices within the last six years. Bank clearances this week are nearly 10 % cent. smaller than last week owing to extraordinarily large payments made to the Treasury within the period last named on account of the new Government bond issue

As to the breadstuff situation it is interesting to note that, although foreign crop advices are in the main encouraging, the export movement of wheat and corn from the United States is still very heavy and shows no signs of abate ment. That our foreign trade continues upon a satisfactory basis is shown by the returns of the New York Custom House for July. Exports of merchandise have been 29 W cent, larger than last year, while imports have been 23 per cent smaller. The fron trade, particularly at the West, is active and prices are well maintained. It is possible that the industry is favorably affected to extent by negotiations for a combination of three or four of the larges producers and manufacturers. An absolutely tangible basis for improvement is found in the steadily increasing foreign demand for American manufactures of iron of all kinds. The output of boots and shoes is the largest ever reported for this month and slightly better demand for cotton products is noted. Advices from Western merchant oreshadow a heavy demand for staple goods for the fall and winter trade. The greates possible activity in sight, however, is in the West Indian trade. Stocks are known to beob viously low in that locality, and with the gradual reopening of Cuba and Porto Rico to Amer ican trade and enterprise handsome returns may be regarded as inevitable.

The Government is collecting and disbursing large amounts without disturbing the mone market in the slightest degree. Its disbursements obviously stimulate many industries and as practically every order or contract given by the Government is for immediate handsome profits accrue to those who secure them. The foreign exchange market has already begun to reflect the demands that Europe invariably makes upon this country during the current six months for staple prod ucts of all kinds, and the chances are that Europe will be more largely dependent upon the United States than ever before to finance its enormous purchases of cotton, breadstuffs and other merchandise, because it has fewer se-eurities to send us and its bankers are not likely to succeed as they did last year in inducing investors to part with their reduced holdings of American securities.

The weekly statement of averages of the Associated Banks shows the smallest changes in many weeks. A loss in lawful money of only $1,000,000, all of it in specie, indicates a virtual cessation of heavy payments to the Tressury on account of the new bond issue. The loans have been increased nearly $2,000,000, and the two changes noted very nearly offset each other in deposits. In consequence the decrease in the surplus reserve is only a little larger than that in lawful money. To-day's market was redeemed from stagnation by active trading in Brooklyn Rapid Transit and United States Rubber common at rapidly advancing prices. The remainder of the list was strong, but noteworthy net advances were recorded only by a few of the less active shares, namely, New York Air Brake, National Lead, United States Rubber preferred, and United States Leather preferred. The closing was in the main strong, though very quiet. As compared with the final prices of last Sat-urday the entire list is higher. The more im-portant net advances are in U. S. Rubber, 7 went; American Sugar Refining, 5%; U. S. Rubber preferred, 5%; Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 4%; American Tobacco, 2%; Consolidated Gas, 2%; Delaware and Hudson and Pullman's Palace Car, 2 each; Northwest, 1%; Norfolk and Western preferred and Metropolitan Street Railway, 1% cach: Manhattan Railway, 1% Illinois Central and National Lead, 1% each Baltimore and Ohio, 14; Kansas and Texas, 1 Bay State Gas and People's Gas, % each; Bur-lington and Quincy, Chicago Great Western Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, and Union Pacific preferred, & each; Rock Island, N: American Spirits, Western Union, and Wabash preferred, h # cent. each.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

An important feature of the real estate market at present is the vast sums of money ac-cumulating to the credit of large financial institutions in the city whose chief income from loans and investments is derived from realty. One large company on Broadway reported at its quarterly meeting last Thursday that it had on deposit in the banks in this city the enormous sum of $21,000,000, which is about onemous sum of $21,000,000, which is about one-tenth of the total reserve of the Clearing House banks at the close of business yesterday. It is unusual for this company to keep so large a sum of money idle and earning no income. A trustee of this institution said on Friday: "We don't think this is a good time to make investments, and therefore we are holding our money. Several large institutions announced their pids for the war loan in amounts running from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 and not one of these institutions was successful in securing bonds."

The Northwestern Life Insurance Company

these institutions was successful in securing bonds."

The Northwestern Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee has recently loaned Mr. Leiter $3,000,000 on his real estate in Chicago at a low rate of interest. It is believed that the institutions in this city which have been indifferent about buying real estate or loaning money on it during the last few months will soon follow the example of the insurance company in Milwaukee and let out their funds. Several things are liable to happen in the near future to encourage a better realty market. The closing of the war would of itself be an important factor in that direction, but the chief factor will be the return to the city for business of the large number of operators and real estate brokers who are now enjoying their summer outing.

CROSSED THE CROOKS' DEAD LINE. Four Men Arrested on Suspicion-One Turns Out to Be a Bank Sneak.

Four men, who the police say are well-known crooks from Chicago, were seen on Friday by Central Office Detectives Cain and Nugent on Malden lane, below the "crooks' dead line" at Fulton street, established by Inspector Byrnes. The detectives followed the men to 259 West Thirty-ninth street, where they separated. Detectives Vallely and Funston ar separated. Detectives Vallely and Funston arrested two of them on suspicion at the Grand Central Station, and the other two were arrested on Broadway by Cain and Nugent.

In Jefferson Market Court yesterday the prisoners said they were H. H. Robertson, 24 years old, and Charles Edwards, 23 years, both of 239 West Thirty-ninth street; Paul Hermann, 25 years, of 179 West Twenty-sixth street, and Philip Ganset, 25 years, of 250 West Thirty-ninth street.

No evidence was found against the first three, and Magistrate Meade discharged them. Ganset was committed to the City Prison, as a bench warrant was out against him.

On Nov. 11, 1808, he attempted to rob the banking house of Zimmermann & Forshay, 11 Wall street, by pulling a bundle of billathrough the cashler's window with a wire. HUNT FOR JOHN D. SLAYBACK. Process Server Can't Get Him-Receiver in

Supplementary Proceedings. Justice Bischoff of the Supreme Court has ap pointed Charles Fox receiver in supplementary proceedings for John D. Slayback, stock broker of 68 Broadway, on a judgment obtained by the Gallatin National Bank on June 30, 1897, for $8,224, which judgment was assigned on July 12, 1898, to William S. Maddox. Mr. Slayback was formerly one of the most active traders in Wall street, became a member of the New York Stock Exchange in 1836, and was a partner from that time in the firm of John Bloodgood & Co. Efforts to get Mr. Slayback to appear for examination in the supplementary proceedings were fruitless. He was served with a summons, but he neglected to comply with the order of the Court to appear for examination, and on July 10 an order was granted by the Court for him to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. This order was returnable last Wednesday, but the process server could not find him to serve it. Several clerks called at his office on different days, but could never find him there; the ferries were watched to find him going to or coming from his office and his house at Montclair was watched also for several days. He was seen once on the veranda, but on July 25, 26 and 27 it was stated he did not take his accustomed train to New York. Wall street, became a member of the New York

JUDGE BLECKLEY'S FAREWELL,

A Poetical Opinion Drawn Up on Retiring from the Georgia Supreme Court. When Judge Logan E. Bleckley took his leave of the Georgia Supreme Court, after serving as an associate Justice for five years, he took up i sheet of paper and read therefrom the following lines, which were drawn up in the form of a regular judicial opinion: Bleckley, J. In the Matter of Rest.

Rest for the hand and brow and breast,
For fingers, heart, and brain!
Best and peace! a long release
From labor and from pain;
Pain of doubt, fatigue, despair;
Pain of darkness everywhere,
And seeking light in vain.

Peace and rest! Are they the best
For mortals here below?
Is soft repose from work and woe
A bluss for men to know?
Bliss of time is bliss of toil;
No bliss but this, from sin and soil,
Does God permit to grow.
Igo Bleckley read the lines alo

Judge Bleckley read the lines slowly and with emphasis. By order of the Court they were spread on the minutes in honor of their nuthor.
